May 14, 2007 Hi All,

I have a quick question relating to when you create a VMWARE fusion guest with the Quick Install Wizard

When you tell it to create a login it tries to always do a CTRL ALT delete when the image has fired up

Does anyone know how to stop this auto login so that the guest always just goes to the press CTRL ALT DEL to begin splash screen?

Thanks in Advance

Simon

This is more of a general Windows question than a Fusion question. Reversing the process in How to turn on automatic logon in Windows XP or Auto logon for Windows XP might work (of course, if you're using a different version of Windows, search for the appropriate version of the instructions). Perhaps someone else will know a more intuitive way of setting this.
