I would like to do a two part presentation on Perl. I would like to do the first one on Introduction to Programming in Perl and the second one would be using the Perl APIs provided by VMWare.

I would like to break this up because there is a bunch of info to cover and I don't want people to get the glazed over look when going through that much info.

Sounds like a good topic to me. We are currently going through some Perl training at work. I'd like to see some practical VMWare applications for it.

 in response to: jp1960 JP - is there anything from your work training that you think I should include. The first one might be review from your training.

 in response to: BigJoe I do not know any perl, but I would be interested in seeing what can be scripted.
